UNDER THE PUNKAH.

By J. PENN.

Money and Markets.

As my friend "Kufan" says, always listen to the "guy" they spill along the Rialto, but don't even pretend to believe more than half they tell you, and be very, very careful how much you select for sober consideration out of the remainder. Some of those blokes with large pocket-books and small feet can flap their ears so fast that they don't have to buy an electric fan to cool their faces—but listen, big boy, I want to let you in on something good, 'cause you are a personal friend of mine, see?

Very well, then, listen here. There's going to be a big demand for axes—yes, axes I said, not taxes, though there will be a brisk demand for them, too, if all I hear is correct. Now then, here's a tip—get in on the ground floor with axes. No, please don't misunderstand me; I am not suggesting burglary—I mean buy axes; buy for all your worth. Yes, and emery-wheels and bones, too; that'll be another good line. 'Cos why I says you, and I answers you thus:—'Cos there will be a brisk demand for axes when this Retrenchment Committee gets going properly. No, brother, no—not because they're going to "ax" questions. Guess again. Ever heard of Geddes and his axe? Very well.

We are going to have a gang of Geddeses, going around the Civil Service, each armed with an axe like little George Washington—see? And every time each young Geddes sees a head that he thinks should not take its accustomed place on the long, long trail for the monthly pay-envelope, he is going to swing his axe smartly and bring it into violent conflict with the cervical vertebrae of a civil servant, or perhaps an official servant. Now do you catch my drift? Now do you understand why I advise you to buy axes? No, old man; that's quite all right; please don't thank me. It is a real pleasure to put an old friend on to a good thing. Eh? Well, yes, you may buy me a cigar if you really insist, old boy. Cheerio!

Going Up!

I shall be coming back to this retrenchment business later; meanwhile I want to pass on a funny story—at least, it was funny the way it was told me, but maybe I shall get the wires crossed and put the whole thing wrong, but I will do my best to give it to you as I got it. Said Mrs. A. to Mrs. B. on the ferry (of course, between us two, that "on the ferry" is pure bunk, but it gives a touch of verisimilitude to the story):—"And how is your eldest son getting on?" To which Mrs. B. replied:—"Oh, splendid! He is taking up Chinese, Irish, Portuguese, Dutch, Japanese, Welsh, Siamese, and—"

Pray Silence for the Old Resident!

I don't know whether it is the climate of the dear old place or what, but long residence in Hong Kong appears to result in an extraordinary accumulation of excessive "grey matter" in some brain-boxes. I have examined the report and accounts carefully, and have received all the assistance I expect to get from the general managers, and can only say that the brain-waves emanating from Hong Kong crania are no worse than those produced in other parts of the Empire.

The other day, however, one who seemed to be a little different from the rest loomed up on the horizon and, as so many dear old people feel it their bounden duty to do, he gave me an impromptu and unasked-for talk. From his vast knowledge of the ways of the world in general and of Hong Kong in particular you would not challenge such a one to produce his credentials. What he actually said, however, is another matter, the value of which you must judge for yourself from the reproduction of such gems of wisdom as I can recall.

"I see that envious eyes are cast on the money spent in luxuries in this highly-taxed city of ours," said the Old Resident. "If there is going to be any taxation at all, let it be on alabaster masks tinged with rouge, coupled with silken legs, on some of which butterflies so peacefully rest their wings. Now, I have never been against silk hose myself, but—as an Old Resident—I would like to see the Colony adopt the stockless vogue. You can still have your butterfly if you please—a Japanese tattooer can arrange that—but think of the fun tax-collectors would have stopping the flappers at street-corners to collect a tax on their hose, and figuring out the amount of chalk on their fair features at so much per square inch!"

Taxes on Pets.

"I have nothing to say against dogs, as dogs go," continued the Old Resident, "but it seems illogical to tax them while cat-owners go free. Now a small tax on cats, which might result in the creatures having a lean time in some households (but that does not matter, as we shall not regret missing their concerts at night) should bring in as large a revenue as that provided by Alsatians, Pekingese, bull-terriers, and other doubtful starters. The same rule could be applied to other household pets—parrots, canaries, white mice, goldfish, etc.—and in a few years Hong Kong would be a much happier place to live in."

"Now that booze and tobacco are making a decent-sized hole in the monthly budget, and petrol will be one cent more per mile and bus fares going up correspondingly—what about a tax on 'three-piece' rickshaws, as two of the 'three-piece' appear quite superfluous."

And while thinking about brokers, what about taxing the old bowler hat? 'Tis true that in summer bowler hats are as scarce as snow-balls, but let the first streak of North wind touch this fair and flowery isle, and your broker knows no other hat. A small charge for this emblem of wealth and wisdom appears long overdue."

And Amusements.

"It is amusing to think of an amusement-tax," burred the Old Resident. "I have lived so long in Hong Kong that I've forgotten the meaning of the word amusement. Looks as if the theatres are in for it, but I've never fallen in love with Gloria Pickford or Mary Swanson, and I can't tell Douglas Coleman from Ronald Fairbanks, so it will make little difference to me—personally. I have been musing over the word 'amusement,' however, and do not envy the tax-collector his task. Is watching a football-match at $1 a time an amusement, and if so, is it any more or any less of an amusement than watching local cricket at $0 for a much longer period? And would there be a sort of sliding-scale tax on each form of amusement? I would like to ask an unlikely punter whether a horse-race is an amusement? Perhaps a defeated pugilist can supply an answer to the question: Is boxing an amusement? There are not a few who dabble in stocks and shares, and the question as to whether watching the wobbling of the share market is an amusement is as yet unanswered. I am waiting for details of this amusement-tax. I find it quite amusing to speculate on the likely avenues of revenues—and since what is amusing is an amusement, maybe I shall be liable for tax even on a merry thought!"

A Difficult Problem.

For once in his long life "Old Resident" seems to have hit upon something really worth while. When you come to think of it, one man's amusement is another's annoyance, so now can you impartially impose an amusement-tax? Is the lounge-lizard to be exempt from a tax on his favourite form of amusement? The man who never goes to the talkies or movies amuses himself in other ways—shall he then escape taxation? No, a thousand times no! He must pay something for the privilege of amusing himself, since he won't let others do it for him. He may play bridge, poker, or mah-jongg—therefore he must take out an amusement-licence; otherwise he will escape the tax on those who amuse themselves by going to theatre and cinema. He may go to fishing, swimming, sailing, or to the tennis-courts or links for amusement. Shall he not contribute to the Exchequer? He shall, and right generously too, an' all. He may amuse himself by reading—then he must pay for the privilege. Only one exception should be made—in favour of the man whose amusement consists of reading these my Notes. He should go free of tax—other than that upon his imagination.—Ed.]

THOUSAND SCHOOLS IN THE COLONY.

REPORT OF DIRECTOR OF EDUCATION.

VALUE OF EXAMINATIONS.

The report of the Director of Education for 1929 has just been issued and we give below the following extracts.

Of the 1007 schools controlled by the Education Department in 1929 twenty are directly managed by Government. The cost of their equipment and maintenance is a charge on the colonial revenues and except for a few temporary appointments, the teachers are civil servants on the permanent establishment of the Government of the Colony. Those hundred and twenty eight schools under private management are partly dependent on assistance from public funds.

There are also 859 other private schools subject to registration and inspection but receiving no financial assistance from funds at the disposal of the Director of Education. A "school" is defined in the Education Ordinance as "a place where ten or more persons are habitually taught." All such institutions fall within the control of the Education Department.

Government schools, are either schools where the medium of instruction is English or for the most part English, or schools where the medium of instruction is Chinese.

Of four Government English Schools, usually classed as secondary schools, three have primary departments and eight classes take the pupils from the first steps in English to the Matriculation and Senior Local Examinations of the University of Hong Kong either of which constitutes the leaving certificate of these schools. The twelve primary schools fall into two groups—four mixed schools being preparatory for the Central British School which has no primary department, and eight "District" and Lower Grade schools, one of which is a school for Indians where Urdu takes the place of Chinese.

The control of and assistance given to Grant in Aid Schools is regulated by the Grant Code. Of these schools six are English schools for boys, six are English schools for girls and four are Vernacular schools for girls.

Of the above one English school for boys and one English school for girls are lower grade schools, the further education of the children being provided at parent institutions. The remaining ten English schools, usually classed as secondary schools have primary departments.

Very few of these schools approach the standard of the Grant in Aid schools, nor are they able to provide such staff, premises or equipment as would enable them to do so.

Educationally there is little need for these schools and the demand for instruction in English which calls them into existence would be more satisfactorily met by additional "District" or Lower Grade Government schools. Up to 1913, the date of the Education Ordinance, the policy or trend, as described by the then Director of Education, was "to encourage Upper Grade schools, both Government and Grant rather than Lower Grade schools." Though this tendency has been somewhat modified since pre-Ordinance days, the improvement is mostly in the field of vernacular education and the existence of 135 English schools in which the teaching and the English are for the most part of an inferior quality shows that the demand for English is only partially satisfied by the more efficient Government and Grant in Aid schools.

Government Schools. I mentioned in my report for 1929 that Gun Club Hill School leased since 1921 from the Military Authorities for the use of Kowloon Junior School would not be available in 1929. "Parkside" was adapted for the purpose and has, on the whole proved satisfactory, but a large room for physical drill is needed. This would also be useful as an assembly hall.

The total number of pupils enrolled at the five schools in 1929 was 496 as against 438 in 1928 and 409 in 1927. The increase during the last ten years of the number of children in the British Schools seems to indicate that more families are settling down here and regarding the Colony as their home, though the closing of the Sugar Refinery at Quarry Bay will affect the attendance at the school in that district.

At present the pupils of Class 1 at the Central British School sit each year for the Matriculation Examination of the University of Hong Kong and a few for the London University Matriculation.

An annex of five classrooms was opened in this school in 1924. Four extra rooms were added in 1928 and it is again found necessary to provide additional room of a temporary nature which will serve till a new school building becomes available.

The total number of pupils on roll in Anglo-Chinese Schools was 3,554 as against 3,238 in 1928. At Queen's College, King's College and Belknap Public School for Girls the pupils of Classes 1 and 2 are required to sit for the Matriculation or Senior Local and Junior Local Examinations of the University of Hong Kong. This year the entrants numbered 214 and 102 passed.

The age limit for admission to Class 8 has been raised to twelve plus. These entrants are, it should be understood, not making their first venture into school life, as the entrance examination postulates three or four years education in the vernacular. During the year 1928-29 the school building was found to be unsafe and rented premises have been occupied pending the erection of a new building. The Vernacular Middle School was again unable to accommodate all the applicants for admission. At the final examination in the normal department seven qualified as vernacular teachers. The Inspector of Vernacular Schools reports that these teachers are sought for by heads of schools and easily find employment.

The Vernacular Normal School for Women continues its satisfactory career and again shows a small increase in numbers: holders of the final certificates from this school also have no difficulty in finding posts and are doing useful work.

The number on the roll at the Technical Institute was 593. This institution which represents the only provision in the Colony for adult education continues to supply an obvious need. Very useful are the English and Vernacular teachers' classes, which have been effective in improving the quality of the instruction in the schools of the Colony.

Grant in Aid Schools.

The number of these schools is again sixteen, the Wah Yan branch school at Kowloon having been added to the list. It may not be necessary to place any more schools on the Grant List in the near future and I do not see any pressing need for an increase in the secondary departments of English schools for the next few years. As the late Governor said at one of his last public functions there is room for more schools which cater for that majority of our pupils who do not stay at school beyond class 3 or 4. The pupils at the English Schools numbered 4,639 as against 4,257 last year while the numbers at Vernacular Schools dropped from 1,011 to 867.

It was found necessary at the beginning of the year to appoint one new Inspector of Vernacular Schools and an increase in subsidy expenditure of $3,000 was incurred. This would have to be further, but at present not considerably, increased if aid were given to all schools which merit and need it. The receipt of a subsidy is a sort of hall mark and has the merit of attracting pupils to institutions which have met with the comparative approval of the inspectors.

Examinations.

It is a common practice among writers and speakers on educational subjects to depreciate examinations. But there is at present nothing to take their place and they are likely to form part of educational machinery for some time to come. Nor do I think there is anything intrinsically vicious about them but they are liable to abuse. The results of the examinations among the private unaided schools reveal a serious misuse of the Local Examinations and especially of the Junior Local. It will be seen that ten of these schools have secured 21 passes out of 151 candidates who sat for the examinations. But though this represents a pitiful waste of energy, I am not so concerned about the high percentage of failures as about the low numbers entering from individual schools. The selection of a few candidates who are optimistically supposed to have a chance of passing is contrary to the object of the examinations, which are only of value if every boy or girl from the appropriate class is entered for them.

Every year all the boys in Class 4 at Queen's College, King's College and the Government "District Schools" viz. Ellis Kadoorie School, Yau Ma Tei School, Wantai School and the Indian School, sit for an examination conducted jointly by the head masters of these institutions, and boys from this class in these schools do not gain admission to the three senior classes of Queen's College and King's College by any other means. This year, of 324 Class 4 boys, 374 or 80 per cent. passed. Four schools were, above the average and two below.

From time to time, as application is made, examinations of the University of London are held at the Education Office. In 1929 there were two Matriculation examinations, one in January and one in June. These examinations do not form any part of the educational system of the Colony but are arranged for the convenience of the public.

Two examinations of the Royal Sanitary Institute were held during the year. One teacher sat for the Teachers' Certificate examination of the National Froebel Union.

Health.

That the health of children in Government Schools is good is evidenced by the high average attendance as compared with total enrolment. During the year, 2,652 children were examined, entrants and re-inspections. The percentage of defect, which remains steady year by year, being 37 in British (Continued on next Column.)

NEWSPAPER ADVERTISING.—I.

WRITTEN FOR "THE HONG KONG DAILY PRESS."

[BY A LOCAL ADVERTISING SPECIALIST.]

How Good Advertisements Make Sales.

Let it be stated at the outset that our aim is to discuss the important subject of advertising in a readable and popular manner which may appeal to everyone, and not only to business-men, who naturally are vitally interested in the subject. Perhaps many buyers will peruse these articles to check up their own psychological reactions to various types of advertisements with the theories or conclusions of the writer.

It is undoubtedly a fact that most people do read advertisements in newspapers, practically everybody, in fact, although the great majority of persons claim that they do not have time to read advertisements or that they are not interested in advertisements, and many really think they do not take any notice of them. To prove that they do observe the advertising columns, almost unconsciously, it is only necessary to make an inaccurate remark in regard to some outstanding advertisement appearing in a newspaper which has recently been read, and notice how frequently the average reader will involuntarily give the proper version of the advertisement referred to. Merchants also have abundant proof, which induces them to continue to spend large sums of money on newspaper advertisements, when crowds of customers walk into their shops, day after day, and ask for articles advertised and use certain words or key phrases which have been cleverly inserted in the advertisements, for the specific purpose of checking up the direct returns.

The day has passed, long ago, when anyone can question the assertion that "Advertising Pays," or that "Advertising Sells Goods." One must hasten to add, however, that not all advertising pays and that some advertisements, alas, fail to bring sales. Good advertising is being more and more regarded as a science to be handled by advertising specialists and not in a haphazard manner by Tom, Dick or Harry, the baker or the candlestick-maker.

Good Advertising.

By good advertising is meant the kind that makes sales. This is the one vital test. Not clever stunts, or puns in pictures or words, or even original ideas and artistic designs, or various other features, necessarily make a good advertisement. It is possible to have any or all of such features and yet not produce sales. The public may be amused by or impressed with the cleverness of an advertisement, but if they are not convinced of their need of the article advertised and constrained to buy the article, the cleverness is wasted. If advertising is not producing results it is not good advertising.

Profitable Advertising.

Good advertising is profitable; it pays for itself and shows a profit, no matter whether the amount spent upon it is small or large. It is a mistake to suppose that successful advertising necessarily entails the expenditure of large sums of money. Many firms, if properly advised by experts, might decrease by 50 per cent. their advertising expenditure and at the same time increase their sales. Good advertising is always economical as well as profitable.

Thoughtful Advertising.

Good advertising requires careful thought and laborious planning. The idea that advertisements can be dashed off in a few minutes, by any member of the staff who happens to be unoccupied, is a fallacy. Every advertisement should be designed and written with the utmost care in order to ensure, as far as possible, adequate return for the money spent upon it.

Some firms take great care in dressing their windows attractively and train their salesmen and assistants carefully, but they seem to consider the preparation of advertisements of minor importance, and entrust inexperienced men with this work. What a serious mistake! It is evident that an advertisement in the Press is fully as important as the training of clerks or the dressing of the windows—if not, indeed, more so.

Descriptive Advertising.

Good advertising describes the wares and creates a desire for their possession. This is so obviously true that it may seem absurd to mention it, but how many firms are content with simply inserting in a paper their firm name, with perhaps a short description of their business, as if they were advertising to sell the firm rather than the goods stocked by the firm. "John Doe, Baker and Confectioner" is typical of many advertisements seen to this day in this age of advancement, when one would suppose that John Doe should realize that the purpose of his advertising is to convince the public that they will get better cakes and bread from him than they could get elsewhere, and to give them the reason why they should patronize his shop, making the descriptions of his delicacies so attractive that the public will feel impelled to go to him for the satisfactions of their tastes. It is really the "dough" and not "Doe" that matters.

Successful Advertising.

If a firm discovers that their advertising is not apparently getting results, they should carefully examine it in order to discover the reason for its non-success.

In this connection, however, two things must be taken into consideration. In the first place, the sales organization must back up the advertising with co-operative effort. It is possible for perfectly good advertising to fail to produce good results simply because the office staff or assistants or agents fail to do their part. In the second place, direct results from advertisements are not always easy to trace. Results are sometime indirect, and it is not possible to tabulate them. Many successful firms are unable to trace definite results to particular advertisements, but the fact that sales fall off when the advertising is discontinued or cut down proves that good advertising does make sales.

COLONY'S POSTAL SERVICE.

BIG INCREASE IN REVENUE LAST YEAR.

POSTMASTER-GENERAL'S REPORT.

We give below, in part, the report for 1929 of the Postmaster-General, which shows big increases for the department over previous years in revenue and postal matter sent and received. The Postmaster-General also stresses the value of the new wireless services.

The number of mail receptacles of Hong Kong origin dispatched during the year was 43,725 as compared with 35,517 in 1928—an increase of 8,208; the number received was 48,579 as compared with 43,202—an increase of 5,377. Receptacles in transit, including those to and from British and foreign men-of-war, numbered 180,679 as against 174,492 in 1928—an increase of 6,187. Six thousand and fifty steamers carrying mails arrived and 6,999 left—an increase of 114 and 217 over the previous year's figures.

The service to Europe via Siberia was entirely suspended from July 5 to October 7 when it was resumed via Kobe and Vladivostok. Mails dispatched for transmission via Siberia between July 5 and 18 were diverted by the Chinese Postal Service to the "via Pacific" or "via Suez" routes and all reached their destinations safely after considerable delay. During the suspension of the service via Siberia four mails were sent to Europe by the India-England Air Mail Service from Karachi. Unfortunately, one of these, that dispatched on October 4, was lost when the aeroplane City of Rome was wrecked in the Gulf of Genoa.

Two bags of mails from Swatow for Hong Kong were lost in the wreck of the s.s. Hsin Wah on January 16 and one bag from Swatow was lost in the wreck of the s.s. Lee Cheong on December 20.

The number of registered articles handled amounted to 848,133 as compared with 800,930 in 1928—an increase of 47,203. The figures for insured letters were 19,050 and 17,120 respectively—an increase of 1,930. The number of parcels handled during the year was 41,165 as against 423,830 in 1928—a decrease of 12,815.

The decrease is on account of a smaller number of parcels being posted in Hong Kong for dispatch to other administrations and the office of Weihaiwei being instructed to close direct parcel mails to India during 1929. There was however an increase in the number of parcels received for delivery locally.

Revenue and Expenditure.

The total revenue from the Postal Service in 1929 amounted to $818,455.35, an increase on the previous year of $11,775.87. The expenditure for 1929 amounted to $309,109.64 or $50,846.12 more than that of the previous year. The balance of revenue over expenditure amounted to $509,345.71.

The revenue from this source during the past ten years was as follows:—

1920	$478,223.99
1921	$548,379.02
1922	$572,553.95
1923	$654,587.65
1924	$701,013.17
1925	$835,645.09
1926	$869,878.32
1927	$733,103.13
1928	$781,414.44
1929	$730,151.23

The combined total of the year's transactions on Money Orders and British Postal Orders shows a figure practically the same as that of the previous year. Local Postal Notes show a slight increase of $844.

During the year this section handled 2,323,199 ordinary letters, 238,681 ordinary articles and 8,690 Postal Hong packets as against 2,958,763 ordinary letters, 199,673 other articles and 8,247 Postal Hong packets in 1928. The registered articles delivered amounted to 241,329 of which 123,130 were from the United States and Canada, and 118,209 from China and other countries showing an increase of 22,086 as compared with 219,243 in 1928.

Wireless Services.

The total number of paid radio-telegrams for the year is 150,765 messages which is 65 per cent. increase over the figure for 1928. The total number of paid words is 1,551,909, being an increase compared with last year of 82 per cent. (exclusive of anti-piracy messages). The total number of unpaid messages for the year is 20,529 which is 114 per cent. increase over the figures for 1928. The total number of unpaid words is 1,041,188 being an increase compared with last year of 68 per cent. (Police messages not included in previous annual reports).

During the year new services were commenced with Pakhoi, Chuagahn, Kowloon, Swatow, Toyah, Waichow, Kiukiang, Sun-

GOVT. SAVINGS FOR LAST YEAR.

REVENUE EXCEEDS EXPENDITURE BY $1,571,218.

INCREASES ALL-ROUND.

The following extracts are taken from the report for 1929 on the Colony's finances by the Colonial Treasurer.

Revenue.

The total revenue for the year amounted to $23,554,475, being $1,375,875 more than the estimate, and $1,413,924 less than the revenue in 1928. The Revenue for 1928 included however a sum of $1,963,533.77 which represented the recovery of previous expenditure chargeable to loan account.

Compared with 1928 there were increases under all heads except Licences and internal revenue, fees of courts &c. and miscellaneous receipts.

The principal heads showing excess over the estimates were as follows:—Post Office $73,685; Kowloon Canton Railway $82,445; Rent of Government Properties etc. $101,333; Interest 182,838; Miscellaneous Receipts $458,477; Land Sales $836,171.

The increases in interest and miscellaneous receipts are mainly due to the fall in exchange. Sterling investments and deposits realised during the year have shown a considerable dollar appreciation on that account. The other increases indicate that the improvement in local conditions referred to in the 1928 report have been maintained.

The principal heads showing deficit compared with the estimates were as follows:—Licences and internal revenue $498,585; fees of courts &c. $65,596.

The revenue derived from the opium monopoly and stamp duties fell considerably short of the amount estimated.

Expenditure.

The total expenditure brought to account amounted to $21,983,257, being $2,571,218 less than the estimate and $753,015 more than the expenditure in 1928.

The principal heads showing savings were as follows:—Cadet Service $48,758; Junior Clerical Service $66,198; Imports and Exports Office $45,180; Harbour Master's Department $4,034; Prisons Department $35,779; Medical Department $103,058; Sanitary Department $108,317; Education Department $107,452; Public Works Recurrent $224,402; Public Works Extraordinary $1,593,630; Kowloon Canton Railway $154,947; Military Contribution $728,050; Pensions $50,346.

These savings in so far as they relate to personal emoluments are accounted for by lapsing salaries due to vacant posts and officers on leave.

Other important items were:—The amount of opium sold was considerably less than anticipated and there was a corresponding reduction in the expenses attendant upon the preparation of raw opium for sale. One new launch was not completed during the year as expected and there was a consequent saving in fuel, equipment, stores. A considerable saving was effected in rent of quarters for European wardens and subordinates of prisoners. In the Medical Department savings resulted on practically all sub-heads particularly Bedding and Clothing, Field Works, Fuel and Light. Maintenance of Lunatics at Canton and Medicines and Surgical Instruments.

In the Sanitary Department notable savings were effected under exhumation recurrent, running expenses for motor lorries and vans. Under special expenditure the substitution of a cheaper type of barge and the purchase of 8 motor lorries at a lower price than estimated occasioned further savings. In the Education Department capitation grants, subsidies to schools and building grants were the sub-heads under which large savings resulted. As regards the Military Contribution a large amount due for recovery in respect of previous over-payments was deducted from the 1929 payment.

The principal heads showing excess were as follows:—Public Works Department $224,402; miscellaneous services $57,972. In the case of the Public Works Department the excess was entirely due to expenditure occasioned by the water shortage. Under Miscellaneous Services, rent allowances and exchange compensation were the contributory causes.

The revenue for the year exceeded the expenditure by the sum of $1,571,218.

The sinking fund amounted to $51,320 being $30,654 more than the amount at credit of the fund at the end of 1928.

Note in Specie in Circulation Reserve.

Hong Kong & Shanghai Banking Corporation	Chartered Bank of India, Australia and China	Bank of India, Ltd.	Total
$39,636,538	$37,600,000	17,166,323	7,000,000

Trade Loan Account.

During the course of the year, the sterling loan was further reduced by $245,000, and on December 31 the liability in London with the Hong Kong and Shanghai Banking Corporation stood at $270,000. $1,530,000 of the original loan of $1,800,000 has now been refunded. Redemptions of mortgages effected during 1929 amounted to $1,356,538.83, as against $2,804,930.00 in 1928; $4,845,878.76 in 1927; and $3,403,660.02 in 1926.

Twenty-nine loans were repaid during the year. Power of Sale was exercised in one instance. The principal sum was fully recovered, but a small loss was sustained in respect of interest. It was found necessary in two cases to enter into possession of certain properties. In one instance, it was considered advisable to purchase the equity of redemption from the Official Trustee, the borrower having been adjudicated bankrupt.

The overdraft at the bank at the close of the year was $2,532,468.64.

HONG KONG MUI-TAI AND BROTHELS.

REGULATIONS HAVE BEEN CARRIED OUT.

BROTHEL ABOLITION POLICY
OF COLONY.

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]

LONDON, June 26.
In the House of Commons to-day, Miss Turberville called attention to mui-tai and brothels in Hong Kong during the consideration of the Colonial vote. She asked whether the question would be considered at the Colonial Office Conference.

Dr. Drummond Shields replied to the question, and recalled that new regulations which had come into force had only been in operation since December. There was no justification for the suggestion that there had been failure to carry out the regulations.

Hong Kong "Practically a Chinese Town."

It was a most difficult problem. Hong Kong is practically a Chinese town, and every effort is made to carry out the regulations. There was perhaps some danger of reducing the girls to a status of mere domestics, but the advantages of the abolition of the mui-tai system outweighed the dangers.

Preventing Admission of "Mui-Tai."

Dr. Shields added that he believed the Chinese authorities sincerely tried to prevent mui-tai from entering Hong Kong, but the disturbed state of China tended to make their efforts largely ineffective.

Abolition of Brothels.

In conclusion, he stated that the Government's policy was to abolish brothels. The new Governor of Hong Kong, Sir William Peel, had conferred with the Secretary of State on this subject.

LOCAL COMMENT.

Asked for an expression of opinion on the above message, the Hon. Secretary of the Anti-Mui-tai Society—speaking unofficially—told a Daily Press representative that the question of brothels was rather a delicate issue, and somewhat outside the ordinary province of the Society. The message from London was too brief to explain precisely what Miss Turberville had in mind in putting the question, and consequently it would be unwise at this stage to make any detailed comment on the matter.

CHILD ADOPTION.

One point, said our informant, must be emphasised, and that is the need for a specific law governing the adoption of children, as is enforced in other parts of the British Empire.

Much of the evasion of the law which now goes on could be checked if the production of a certificate of adoption were demanded when a person describes a mui-tai as an adopted daughter.

The Chinese Government is keenly alive to the necessity for abolishing the mui-tai system, and the Anti-Mui-tai Society is in close touch with the Social Bureau in Canton as well as the Chinese representative on the International Labour Bureau at Geneva. Recently a delegate returned from Europe to Shanghai to gather first-hand information regarding mui-tai and other phases of child slavery in China.

South China's Bad Name.

In due course an effective method of working will be evolved whereby a constant and vigilant eye will be kept on traffickers in this form of slavery in and around Hong Kong. It must be borne in mind (added our informant) that nowhere in the country is there so much ill-treatment of mui-tai as in South China; consequently every effort must be made to uproot the evil.

The Governments of Hong Kong and Canton should closely co-operate in dealing with this scandalous state of affairs. The Anti-Mui-tai Society has more than fulfilled its duty by calling attention persistently during the past eight years to the mui-tai evil. It is as a direct reaction to this agitation that such reforms as child protection, women's industrial home, and a Juvenile Court have been either brought into effect or being seriously contemplated. It is most gratifying to observe these progressive signs of the times.

Agitation Justified.

In some quarters there is an idea that the Anti-Mui-tai Society is a meddlesome body making much ado about nothing. Such critics do not realize that the Society has been engaged in an unselfish effort to assist in attaining the ideal of national child welfare in China. It was necessary to make a beginning in the way of promoting interest in the general well-being of Chinese children. The greatest test—as it is the greatest asset—of any civilisation lies in child-welfare. (Continued at foot of next column.)

RUBBER PRODUCTION.

AGREEMENT BETWEEN BRITISH AND DUTCH.

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]

LONDON, June 26.
A meeting of the Anglo-Dutch Liaison Committee on rubber production was held in London to-day. A complete agreement was reached on certain recommendations, which will be immediately submitted to their respective associations.

TIN PRODUCTION IN MALAYA.

GOVERNMENT REPLIES TO CHAMBER OF MINES.

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]

SINGAPORE, June 27.
It is officially announced that the Government of Malaya is not prepared to introduce legislation as regards a six-day week.

The Government is telegraphing to the Secretary of State for the Colonies regarding the restriction of immigration.

The following telegrams on the above subject have appeared in the Daily Press:-

SINGAPORE, June 5.
As regards the decision to suspend tin production for three months, the leading miners in Perak generally are of the opinion that the big European and Chinese mines should close down for two months, leaving the smaller Chinese concerns to carry on so that 30,000 coolies will not be rendered idle, resulting in serious conditions in the Kinta Valley.

It is understood that the international committee of the Tin Producers' Association will support this, and their instructions are being awaited.

It is reliably stated that unless the price of tin rises the majority of the Chinese mines in Perak will be bankrupt by the end of July.

The opinion prevails that the Government should prohibit immigration from China.

SINGAPORE, June 16.

A large and representative meeting of the Malay tin producers passed a resolution recommending (1) the stoppage of production unless the proposal for a two months "holiday" is adopted; (2) that the Chamber of Mines should approach the Government with the view to the introduction of legislation regarding a six-day week; and (3) that the Tin Producers' Association should consider a practical scheme to restrict output and an additional cessation of production for two months.

SUIT AGAINST THE CHINA MERCHANTS.

ENGINEER'S ACTION FOR BREACH OF CONTRACT.

In the Shanghai Special District Court, on June 21, a claim was heard in which, Mr. S. Kolesnik, an engineer formerly in the employ of the China Merchants S.N. Co., sued the well-known Chinese shipping company for $3,652, damages alleged to have been sustained by him due to defendant's breach of contract.

Dr. F. Wilhelm, who appeared for plaintiff, said that his client has been employed by defendants for nearly ten years as an engineer on board the str. Kiang-an, having joined the company on January 20, 1920. On December 20, last year, he was dismissed, notice being given to him by Gavin Wallace, engineer superintendent for the defendant company. Plaintiff claimed that he was entitled to six months leave after five years service and travelling expenses at the rate of $33 per trip. Dr. Wilhelm said that defendants had broken the agreement on account of the desire to replace foreigners by Chinese. Judgment was reserved.

Shanghai's Example.

The Hong Kong Society for the Protection of Children might well take as an example the splendid work done by the National Child Welfare Association of China. This body was established in Shanghai in April, 1928, by a number of Christian leaders. During that year the Association took 300 destitute children from the famine districts in Shantung, and paid for their maintenance and education in various orphanages and child welfare homes. Temporary relief was also given in Nanking to starving children, who went there from Honan in search of food. Welfare homes have been established in various parts of North China, supported by prominent citizens of both sexes in Shanghai and Nanking who go about their work quietly and unobtrusively, finding ample reward in seeing the success achieved by the movement.

EMPIRE CONFERENCE

PARTY LEADERS TO BE PRESENT.

[BRITISH WIRELESS SERVICE.]

LONDON, June 26.
In course of a debate in the House of Commons on the vote for the Dominions Office, Mr. L. M. S. Amery, who was Dominions Secretary in the late Conservative Government, suggested that at the Imperial Economic Conference leading representatives of every party should be present. He appealed to the Secretary for the Dominions also to deal with all proposals with an absolutely open mind, and to give an assurance that no methods or subjects would be barred from discussion.

Nothing to be Excluded.

Mr. J. H. Thomas, Secretary for the Dominions, said that, speaking for himself and the Government, they would exclude nothing from their considerations. They would discuss everything on its merits and with a single-minded desire to do all possible not only in the interests of our own country but in the interests of the Empire as well.

So far as he could see, the only thing likely to be excluded was the Referendum, because there was no mention of that on the agenda. As to the suggestion that representatives of the Opposition should attend the Conference, Mr. Thomas said if the Dominions would agree to it, so far as the Government was concerned, they would welcome it.

MALTA DISPUTE.

CONSTITUTION SUSPENSION
OPERATIVE TO-DAY.

LONDON, June 26.
Mr. Philip Snowden, replying in the House of Commons, on behalf of the Premier, to a question whether the measure for the suspension of the Constitution in Malta should receive the sanction of the British Parliament, said that owing to the urgency of the matter it was necessary to act without delay. The necessary legislation was enacted by His Majesty-in-Council this morning. It would become operative tomorrow on proclamation by the Governor in Malta.

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]

Appeal Court Decision Quashed.

LONDON, June 26.
An Order-in-Council quashes the decision of the Appeal Court of Malta regarding the electoral law, and validates that and other Ordinances by the Governor.

HOURS OF WORK IN COAL MINES.

DRAFT CONVENTION
APPROVED.

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]

GENEVA, June 26.
The Labour Conference, by 75 votes to 33, has approved the draft convention on hours of work in coal mines, which provides for a seven and three-quarter hour day, bank to bank.

BYE-ELECTION.

LABOUR WINS SHETLE-
STON.

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]

LONDON, June 27.
The result of the bye-election at Shetleston, Glasgow, due to the death of Mr. Wheatley, was as follows:

Mr. McGovern (Labour)	10,609
Mr. Templeton (Conservative)	10,303
Mr. McNicol (Scottish Nationalist)	9,527
Mr. Saklatvala (Communist)	1,439

NAVAL DEFENCE OF JAPAN.

COMPLIANCE WITH TERMS OF NAVAL PACT.

Tokyo, June 21.—As the result of a series of earnest deliberations of the heads of various departments of the Navy General Staff since his assumption of the post, Admiral Taniguchi, Chief of the Naval General Staff, is stated to have drawn up the new naval defence programme based on the London Naval Pact.

According to the new programme, it is reliably stated that the Navy will make up the shortage of one 5-inch gun cruiser by the building of one light type cruiser, while the shortage of 25,000 tons of submarines will be filled by mine-layers, light cruisers, and aeroplanes.

It is believed that with the completion of the new navy defence programme, based on the London treaty, the imperial sanction of the Pact itself will be given earlier than was at first believed.

SPANISH FIRM AND CHINESE COURT.

INTERESTING CASE IN SHANGHAI.

IS EXTRATERRITORIALITY STILL IN FORCE?

A highly important case of jurisdiction involving the question as to whether Spanish subjects continue to enjoy extraterritorial rights, in spite of a declaration issued by the Chinese Government that the Sino-Spanish Treaty has expired, has been filed in the Shanghai Special District Court by Messrs. M. L. Reubin & Co., Russian contractors, against the Spanish Augustinian Corporation. Plaintiffs claim Tls. 25,800 damages alleged to have been caused through defendant's breach of contract.

Plaintiffs allege that a contract was entered into with defendants for the construction of a godown at 558 Broadway at a cost of Tls. 170,000. Whilst they were still performing their part of the contract, plaintiffs claim, defendants notified them that the contract had been cancelled. As a result, they had suffered damage in the sum claimed.

-Subject to Spanish Court.

Action was filed and defendants were summoned to appear before the Special District Court but they declined to do so on the ground that they enjoyed extraterritorial rights, that the Chinese courts had no jurisdiction over them; that the Sino-Spanish Treaty is still in force and that they were subject only to the jurisdiction of the Spanish Consular Court.

Plaintiffs, through their attorney, Mr. Herbert C. T. Lee, contended that the Chinese court had jurisdiction because the Sino-Spanish Treaty had expired, that an official announcement to this effect had been published by the National Government and that Spanish subjects no longer enjoyed extraterritorial privileges.

In view of defendants' non-appearance, the hearing was adjourned indefinitely.

In this connection, it is understood that Mr. Lee has submitted a proposal to the Shanghai Chinese Bar Association that a petition should be sent to the National Government asking for the publication of detailed measures, in respect of the assumption of jurisdiction by the Chinese courts over Spaniards, Italians, Danes, Portuguese and Belgians, because the treaties with these countries have expired and they no longer enjoy extraterritorial privileges. Mr. Lee recommends that the Chinese courts should refuse to hear cases in which Spanish subjects appear as complainants because the Spanish authorities have attempted to shirk the obligations imposed upon their nationals by law.

Spanish Consul's Contentions.

Questioned regarding the matter, the Spanish Consul-General informed the N.C. Daily News that the question was not one of shirking the law. Spain was in the same position as Belgium, Italy, Denmark and Portugal, whose citizens retained their extraterritorial rights. The Sino-Spanish Treaty was still in force as in the past and Spanish extraterritorial privileges had not been abolished. The Spanish Augustinian Corporation was perfectly right in refusing to submit to the jurisdiction of the Chinese court while the treaty remained in force. (The plaintiffs in the case could find remedy by using in the Spanish Consular Court. Meanwhile, he had lodged a protest against the action of the Chinese Court in usurping its authority by attempting to assume jurisdiction over Spanish subjects.)

FOREIGNERS IN KWANGTUNG.

MUST POSSESS PASSPORTS.

[FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.]

CANTON, June 27.

The Provincial Government of Kwangtung has again reiterated its order to the Magistrates throughout the province to permit no foreigners passing through their respective districts unless bond fide passports are produced.

The Government complains that many foreign travellers fail to observe this rule, and are going from one place to another in the interior without proper passports. This must be discontinued.

The Government order further explains that as soon as a foreigner leaves a treaty port, he must possess a passport.

The different district authorities have been instructed to detain such foreign travellers and send them back to the nearest treaty port.

MOTOR COLLISION IN STUBBS ROAD.

AMBULANCE DRIVER INJURED.

According to a report made to the authorities, while No. 3 Ambulance, an Austin, was taking a patient to Malacca Hospital yesterday, a motor lorry collided with it, damaging its rear wheel and shattering the windscreen.

The ambulance driver was injured, but fortunately his injuries are not of a serious nature.

The accident occurred in Stubbs Road near Sui Fai Terrace.

The lorry concerned is No. 1922, and it is believed that the accident was caused through it having skidded owing to the wet state of the road.

CANTON MILITARY EXPEDITION.

SHARP ENGAGEMENT WITHOUT VICTORY.

[FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.]

CANTON, June 27.

The Cantonese military expedition against the "Ironsides" and Kwangsi troops in Hunan has had a chequered career. They have had several sharp engagements with their antagonists, but have not always been victorious.

The wary anti-Nanking forces, dashing from one place to another with great rapidity, have of late been fairly successful. They have succeeded in cutting off the lines of communications of the best Cantonese troops at several places, inflicting big losses each time.

It is now plain that they are trying to force their way to Kwangtung again.

Latest dispatches to hand state that their vanguards are approaching the northern border of Kwangtung.

General Chen Tai Tong has his headquarters in Lokchong on the northern border, but is reported to be preparing to move back to Shikwan, while is considered safe.

General Chen Ming Shu, alarmed at the latest moves of the rebel troops, is contemplating a trip to Lokchong for a conference with General Chen Tai Tong in the course of the next two or three days.

SACRED HEART COLLEGE.

EIGHTH ANNIVERSARY "AT HOME"

The playground of the Sacred Heart College, Nathan Road, Kowloon, presented a pretty scene last evening when it was gaily decorated with flags, ferns and coloured lights, on the occasion of an "At Home" held in celebration of the eighth anniversary of the school.

A large gathering of students, parents and friends attended, when an excellent concert, consisting of Chinese music, a dancing display and two short plays, was greatly enjoyed.

An address of welcome was given by the Headmaster, Mr. Shak, who, in the course of his speech, said that during the past eight years it has always been the aim of the school to give students a moral as well as a physical training, besides imparting knowledge. He also expressed the hope that parents of students would attend the school's functions more frequently, as that would give them the opportunity of discussing with them the progress of their children. It was his earnest hope that the pupils would make themselves useful not only to themselves but also to those who depended on them.

Mr. Tang Koon Cook, a teacher and former pupil of the school, in a lengthy speech, threw much light on the rapid progress made by the institution during the past eight years. He mentioned that the school authorities had under contemplation the construction of a building to meet the demand of the increasing number of boys who sought admission.

RICE SAMPAHS
PIRATED.CRAFT AND CARGO
RETRIEVED.PIRATES ESCAPE TO THE MOUNTAINS.

(FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.)

CANTON, June 27.

Five big sampans loaded with rice were pirated during the early part of this week on the North River close to the railway station at Yingtak while they were on their way to the Canton market.

A gang of pirates armed with automatics suddenly emerged from their lairs in the mountains by the river side and blocked the passing boats.

The boatmen did not possess arms and had to comply to the pirates' orders. The outlaws systematically ransacked each boat, but found nothing of value except the cargo of rice. They seized all the cargo and directed the boats to an unfrequented tributary of the North River.

The boatmen had no alternative but to obey.

The owners of the cargo did not know of the piracy until the next day, when they at once informed the Government, which in turn gave orders to the magistrate of the Yingtak district to give chase without delay. This was done, and after hours of searching three of the five boats were sighted. The pirates were ordered to halt, but instead they fired upon the Government gunboat. The fire was returned, but it was evident from the very outset that the pirates were not strong enough to resist the Government boat. They abandoned the boats and fled into the mountains. No attempt was made to chase the fleeing pirates.

The three boats loaded with rice were towed back to Yingtak and returned to their owners.

Not a trace of the other two boats could be found after several hours search.

UTTERING FORGED $100
NOTE.TWO CHINESE YOUTHS CHARGED.

The case in which Wong Kam and Ng Piu Ming are charged with uttering a forged $100 banknote of the Chartered Bank and obtaining money on same was continued before Mr. Whyte-Smith at the Kowloon Magistrate's yesterday.

Witnesses from the Kam Tai Hotel gave evidence that the two defendants entered the hotel on the night of May 17, when the first defendant engaged a room for two nights. He was alleged to have then tendered the forged note, for which he received a change of $70. On the grounds that there was insufficient money in the hotel, the accountant promised to deliver the remaining $20 due to the first defendant. That sum was handed to him the following day.

On the third day, the accountant went to the Chartered Bank, when he discovered the $100 note to be a forgery. The defendants were caught in the hotel the same night and turned over to the police. The case was adjourned until this morning.

SEDITIONARY PAPERS.

TWO MEN CONVICTED OF POSSESSION.

Two Chinese were convicted at Central Magistrate yesterday with possession of seditious literature. The men were fined $250 each or in default of payment of the fine were to undergo three months' hard labour. The case was heard before Mr. A. W. G. H. Grantham.

Originally five men were charged, but at the outset the police withdrew the charges against two of the five. A third man was discharged by the Magistrate at the conclusion of the evidence.

From the outflow of the case for the prosecution, it would appear that Sergeant O'Donnovan raided 30, Elgin Street, on May 30 last when the defendants were arrested. None of the defendants appear to have rented the cubicle from the principal tenant, but one of them at least had been playing there for ten days, and another man had been visiting the place regularly.

In convicting the two men, the Magistrate expressed himself satisfied that the documents were seditious in character, that the two men knew the nature of the documents and were in possession of them.

EUROPEAN WILLS

AUSTRALIAN TESTATOR'S
REQUESTS.LATE CAPT. G. M. ARTHUR'S ESTATE.

Included in a number of wills proved in the local Supreme Court is that of Mr. Harold Fisher, late of Montefiore, North Adelaide, South Australia, who died at that address on July 7, 1929. Testator, in his will, made a number of bequests in favour of institutions in Australia, and he also left a small estate worth $2,000 in Hong Kong.

The Elder's Trustee and Executor Co., Ltd., of Adelaide, the sole executors and trustees, are authorised to pay sums of £300 each to the District Trained Nursing Society of South Australia, the South Australian Institution for the Blind, Deaf and Dumb, and the Royal Institution for the Blind in North Adelaide. A sum of £5,000 is left to the South Australia Cricket Association for the purpose of erecting a pavilion at the Adelaide Oval. There is also a bequest of £3,000 to St. Mark's College for the purpose of founding a scholarship. The Adelaide Children's Hospital gets £200, and a similar sum goes to the Travellers' Aid Society.

After providing for an annuity of £30 for life for his aunt and a similar sum for his female cousin, testator directs his estate to be placed on trust and the income paid to the widow, Mrs. Alice Russell Maude Fisher, to whom is also bequeathed his household effects and personal belongings.

Capt. G. M. Arthur.

Capt. G. M. Arthur, marine surveyor, who died on January 23, 1930, and was a partner with Mr. T. H. G. Brayfield in the firm of Carmichael & Clarke, marine surveyors, Queen's Building, Hong Kong, left an estate of $41,000 in the Colony.

He died intestate, leaving a widow, Mrs. Florence Arthur, of Frognore, Devon, England, a daughter, Mrs. E. R. Cawdon, and his only son, Mr. Duncan Edward Arthur. Letters of administration to the estate have been granted to the lawful attorneys acting on their behalf.

Mr. James Corrie.

Probate of will has been granted to a local solicitor, as the lawful attorney, in the estate of Mr. James Corrie, formerly of Gula Estate, Perak, F.M.S., and of 2, Rosemount Terrace, Maxwelltown, Kirkcubright, Scotland.

Testator, who died at Portlino, Dalbeattie, Scotland, on August 5, 1929, appointed in his will three of his sisters as executrices.

Mr. Corrie left property worth $12,700 in Hong Kong, and the total value of his estate in Great Britain was 23,684 18s. 6d.

Mr. J. W. Campbell.

Resealing of probate of will has been granted locally in respect of an estate of $7,500 left in the Colony by Mr. John Wilson Campbell, formerly of 41, Longlands Park, Crescent Sidcup, Kent, and 9, Church Street, Malacca, Straits Settlements, who died on May 16, 1929.

Everything is bequeathed to the widow and daughter. Testator's widow and his sister are named as executrices and trustees.

Mr. Campbell, who was a rubber planter and visiting agent in the East, also left estate at Rome, the net value of which was 21,368 6s. 4d.

CHINESE NEWSPAPER
CLOSED DOWN.

Following an Order issued by the Governor-in-Council, proscribing the Hong Kong Siu Yat Po (or "Little Daily") as being subversive to the cause of peace and good order, a party of police, led by Mr. L. H. V. Booth, visited the offices of the paper at 63, Wyndham Street, on Thursday, and closed down the premises.

Two members of the editorial staff were detained by the police, who also seized a quantity of papers and printing material.

Another raid was carried out at the same time on the publishers of the newspaper, the Wilson Printing Press, of 80, Wellington Street, where other seizures of papers and printed matter were made.

"DON'T PAY US SO MUCH!"BROKERS REDUCE THEIR CHARGES.

AN ISOLATED MOVE?

No little excitement was caused in the share market yesterday by the announcement—which also appears in this paper—that the Share and Real Estate Brokers Society of Hong Kong have agreed to charge those dealing with shares at a new scale of brokerage. The announcement states that in future members of the society will only charge half of one per cent. to their clients on all share deals.

In an interview with the secretary of the Society, Mr. M. Fernandes, a Daily Press reporter was informed that the step was taken in order to create a bigger incentive to the public to go in for share deals. It is generally felt, he said, that the existing scale of charges are too high, and the members of the society were ready to create a precedent in Hong Kong for the benefit of those members of the public who deal in shares.

"Return Commission."

It was pointed out that under the scale of brokerage which had been in force hitherto, the public paid too high a percentage since a charge is made when purchasing the shares and a similar charge when the shares are sold. Under the new scheme adopted by members of the Share and Real Estate Society, total brokerage charge on one complete deal—purchase and sale—would be only one per cent.

Mr. Fernandes further stated that he understood that in London as well as in Shanghai steps are being or have been taken to reduce brokerage. With the brokerage rate as it is now, a good deal of what is officially described as brokerage is returned to the principal under the guise of "return commission." It is with a view to obviating this indirect method of adjusting their fees that the new measure is adopted.

More Business Foreshadowed.

Continuing Mr. Fernandes told our representative that undoubtedly the new step would lead to more business. He instanced the case of a principal who leaves instructions to his bankers to dispose of certain shares when they reach a certain figure. It would be only logical to conclude, said Mr. Fernandes, that if the banker had the interest of their clients in mind, they would go to a firm of brokers which are charging the lowest brokerage.

"We do not wish to antagonise anyone," said Mr. Fernandes. "Our sole object is to instill a new feeling into the public—to make them realise that they can go in to the share business without being encumbered with a heavy item of brokerage."

How It Will Work!

Another member of the society, when interviewed, told our representative that under the new scheme the brokerage charged in Hong Kong would be more reasonable. He instanced the case of Underwriters in which he pointed out that five cents is being charged on this stock with stands at $2.75. Under the new scheme only 1 cent per share would be charged. A person who holds Underwriters would enjoy no profit if the stock went up by 10 cents under the old scheme, but under the new rate of brokerage, a principal who buys Underwriters can look to a profit of seven cents per share if a rise of 10 cents is registered.

In answer to a question by our representative, this member told him that the Share and Real Estate Brokers Society had been functioning all the time, and that the general impression that the society is no longer in existence is absolutely wrong. There are now nineteen members.

The report and accounts were unanimously carried at they had been duly proposed by Mr. F. C. Hall and seconded by Mr. Ho Leung.

CHINA SUGAR CO.

LIQUIDATORS' REPORT
CARRIED.EAST POINT LAND STILL UNSOLD.

A general meeting of shareholders of the China Sugar Refining Company, Limited (in voluntary liquidation) was held yesterday in the board room of Messrs. Jardine, Matheson & Co., when the second report of the liquidators was presented and unanimously adopted.

Mr. A. C. Stewart presided, and supporting him was Mr. John Fleming. Shareholders present were Messrs. A. W. Eastman, R. E. MacDougall, A. H. Chambers, P. Tod, F. C. Hall, Ho Leung, M. H. Lo and Wong Kwong Tin.

In presenting the report the Chairman said:—

The report of the liquidators for the year ending April 30, 1930, together with a summary of their receipts and payments both during that year and for the period since the commencement of liquidation on May 18, 1928, have been in your hands for the prescribed period, and I proposed to adopt the usual procedure and with your permission will take them as read.

The report as you will see covers fully all that transpired during that period, and since that day there has been really nothing special to report. Various enquiries have been received about properties, but no sale has actually been effected.

When the report has been proposed and duly seconded, I will answer to the best of my ability any questions you may like to ask.

The adoption of the report was proposed by Mr. F. C. Hall, and seconded by Mr. Ho Leung, and carried without dissent. This brought the business to a close.

The liquidators' report read as follows:—

"The Liquidators beg to submit their second report to the shareholders, which covers the conduct of the liquidation during the year ended April 30, 1930, together with a summary of their receipts and payments both during that year and for the period since commencement of liquidation on May 18, 1928."

East Point Property Still Unsold.

During the year the four houses and land at Great George Street have been sold at a satisfactory figure; negotiations were opened for the sale of the whole of the refinery land at East Point but these unfortunately led to no agreement.

At the date of liquidation part of the refinery compound was only rented and to make the property more desirable an exchange of land was effected with the owner of that part. This has resulted in the Company's property being consolidated in an even rectangular block which lends itself readily to development. A scheme has been prepared by Messrs. Palmer and Turner showing a proposed lay-out which allows of some 297,000 square feet for building exclusive of roads. This plan can be seen on application to Messrs. Jardine, Matheson & Co.'s property office.

The remaining two godowns at East Point have been let and a large number of tenants found to take open storage on the land cleared by the buildings demolished.

Title deeds for the two blocks of land on Morrison Hill Road have now been issued by the Government in substitution for the land resumed by it near the refinery entrance and these properties can be offered for sale.

Machinery and Stock.

The realisation of the plant and machinery has now been completed.

Owing to the disturbed state of China, progress in collecting dealers' accounts has necessarily been slow, but only a small proportion of the original shipments now remain to be realised.

With the exception of a few watchmen all the employees of the Company have now been paid off, including clerical staff, as an arrangement has been made with Messrs. Jardine, Matheson & Co., Ltd., for a payment of $300 per month to cover rent, clerical and other incidental expenses.

Mr. Fleming returned to the Colony on December 2 last and Mr. A. Ritchie, C.A., thereupon retired in terms of his appointment.

Shareholders desiring further information may obtain same on application at the office of the liquidators.

The report and accounts were unanimously carried at they had been duly proposed by Mr. F. C. Hall and seconded by Mr. Ho Leung.

THE SILVER SCREEN.

"SHERLOCK HOLMES" AND
"SWEETIE."

The "Return of Sherlock Holmes" Paramount's all-talking mystery drama, with the noted British actor, Clive Brook, in the title rôle of Sherlock Holmes, which has been drawing packed houses to the Central Theatre, will have its final showing to-day, and those who like a good detective story should book their seats early for one of to-day's four performances.

To-morrow, Sunday, a new programme will be shown, the big picture is titled "Sweetie," an hilarious extravaganza of campus life, and will be shown for four days.

Nancy Carroll, the little red-haired girl of the Paramount studios, who is rated by the film-going public as second only to Clara Bow in popularity, plays the title rôle in the production. Her leading man is Stanley Smith, lately seen and heard in "The Sophomore."

Jack Oakie, the "fresh guy" comic of "Fast Company" and many others; Helen Kane, a singer who made her way to national fame overnight on phonograph and radio, and William Austin, English comic actor of silent and talking films, are cast in support of Miss Carroll in singing, dancing and comedy rôles.

Kew, jazz dances, new catchy tunes, new comedy "gags" and a great assortment of real American thrills makes this picture a whirlwind entertainment.

NEXT WEEK'S NOVELTIES.

There will be some interesting items on the local broadcasting programme next week.

On Monday evening the members of the Salisbury Company will be heard in extracts from "Funny Face," which is being played at the Star Theatre, Kowloon, that evening.

On Wednesday, at 9.15 p.m., there will be a vaudeville entertainment by the ladies of the Salisbury Company, broadcast from the studio, and at 10.15 there will be a switch-over to the Star Theatre, in order to broadcast the three middle scenes of "Journey's End."

SNATCHER SENT TO PRISON.

EXCUSE FAILS TO CONVINCE.

Sentence of six months' hard labour was passed by Mr. A. W. G. H. Grantham at Central Magistrate yesterday on a Chinese who was convicted of snatching a handbag from a Chinese woman, which contained money, jewellery and sundries valued at $412.

The defendant's arrest was brought about by a sub-officer of the Fire Brigade. The snatching took place in Des Vaux Road on Thursday afternoon.

The defendant tried to explain away the offence by stating that in attempting to avoid two motor-cars coming in opposite directions, he brushed against complainant and caused the bag to fall out of her hand.

COLLISION IN HARBOUR.

SAMPAH'S OCCUPANTS
THROWN OUT.

A collision between a sampan and a boat which was being towed by a launch in the harbour off Waterloo Road in the Yaumati District was reported on Thursday.

In making her report to the Police, a girl, who was on board at the time, stated that her sampan was travelling from the Yaumati Ferry Wharf to Taikoo with two male passengers. On passing the vicinity of Waterloo Road, the steam launch Wing Loong, which was towing a boat at the time, passed close to the sampan with the result that the boat, which was being towed, collided with the smaller vessel which capsized.

All the occupants were thrown into the sea, but the two passengers of the sampan managed to rescue the girl. The launch made no attempt to stop.

YET ANOTHER POLITICAL SENSATION.

Now comes news from London of one more sensational development in political circles—a Labour endorsement of the Empire Free-trade idea. There will be great rejoicing in the Crusaders' camp over this announcement, and the noble Lords BEAVERBROOK and ROTHERMERE are provided with an effective answer to Mr. Baldwin's recent challenge. Reuter merely tells us that the General Council of the Trade Union Congress has endorsed a report presented by the Economic Committee, and that the contents will be submitted for consideration to the annual meeting of the Congress in September. Behind that bald statement of fact is an interesting story, and an important one, because it reveals the existence of a widening breach in the ranks of the Labour Party. All three political parties are divided on this issue, making it quite possible that before long we shall see the emergence of a fourth party composed of some of the malcontents in the other three.

The report which has been now endorsed recommended, to the General Council an economic policy which would aim at making the Empire a single economic group, with internal Free-trade and Protection against the rest of the world—in other words, "Empire Free-trade." In propounding this policy the Economic Committee rejects both the idea of isolation and the notion that Great Britain can wisely join a European federation or an Anglo-American group. The report was drawn up in anticipation of the Imperial Conference and in connection with M. BRIAND's scheme for the "United States of Europe." It came before the General Council last month, and was referred back to the Economic Committee. The General Council denied, however, that the abstract published in the Press was a correct rendering of the report.

Further, the General Council passed a resolution condemning the publication of a "confidential document," and repudiating the interpretation given to it. Then the Council decided to refer the report back to the Economic Committee for "further elucidation." That having been now done, the report is to be presented to the annual meeting of the T.U.C. next September. There is little doubt that the Committee has produced a report which, if it does not go so far as advocating "Empire Free-trade," is at least suspect from the point of view of Free-trade orthodoxy. And that explains the evident embarrassment of the General Council when it discovered that the report, garbled or not, had got into the Press.

The Committee's view was that at the forthcoming Imperial Conference it would be in the interests of the trades union movement to press for as full a development as possible of the economic relations between Great Britain and the Dominions, urging the creation of machinery, and if necessary agreements with the Dominions for the further development of inter-Commonwealth trade and for the best possible distribution of economic activities within the Empire. The report envisaged the development of the Empire as a Commonwealth group, and pointed out that the usually accepted definition of an economic group is a combination maintaining as far as possible a balance between supplies of raw material and manufactured goods, observing Free-trade within the group but Protection against outsiders if necessary. Though no denials were issued of the accuracy of the report which appeared in the papers last month, attempts were made to discount it. For example, the Press Association circulated a statement on good authority "that the report has no political significance," and adding:—"The Economic Committee is not a special body set up for the specific purpose of considering the policy to be placed before the Government for consideration at the Imperial Conference. It is a committee of the Council which has been meeting the two employers' bodies—the Federation of British Industries and the Confederation of Employers' Organisations—on the subject of industrial relations following the TURNER-MELCHETT unofficial conferences." And further:—"The report, if adopted by the General Council, will represent the policy of the T.U.C., but it will be the political side of the Labour movement that will be called upon to deal with it. The report emphasises the bargaining advantages which a commonwealth group could exercise, and foreshadows the possible necessity for an extended measure of Protection against foreign countries while maintaining Free-trade within the Empire, providing reciprocal preferences are arranged with the Dominions."

The ways of trade-union leaders are passing strange. They seem to have a fatal facility for signing their names to documents which conflict with the policies for which they and their organisations stand. Only a few weeks ago members of the committee of the General Federation of Trade Unions put their names to a so-called "port" on the effects of taxation on industry which was at complete variance with the theory on which the Labour Party acts. It is hard to believe that some at least of the members of the Economic Committee did not appreciate that phrases about "the further development of inter-Commonwealth trade" and "the best possible distribution of economic activities within the British Commonwealth" and the creation of an "economic group" protecting itself against outsiders could have only one meaning—a tariff fence round the Empire against the rest of the world. Mr. TURNER may perhaps hold the view that this is a proper end—he said something of the sort in his address to the Congress last year—and yet not find it incompatible with attending a Free-trade conference. But how can these sentiments be squared with the conception of international trade union policy to which, through the International Federation of Trade Unions, the T.U.C. has hitherto been attached? Not only are the ideas in the report quite contrary to the spirit of international Labour but they are incompatible with any policy declaration of the Labour Party. It seems certain, then, that there will be a lively debate at the T.U.C. gathering in September, and meanwhile the Empire Free-trade Crusaders will certainly make the most of their wonderful opportunity.

Her "Diane" in "7th Heaven," her "Angela" in "Street Angel" and her "Christina" in the picture of the same name, have made Janet Gaynor prominent in the picture world of young players.

U.S. Navy Department officials are studying provisions of the London Naval Treaty with a view to ascertaining the possibilities for providing, under the treaty for the equipment of all cruisers with aeroplane landing decks. Cruisers of the U.S. Navy now in service or building are not provided with such decks, but carry six aeroplanes each. New equipment will provide for 18 planes, and provision for landing decks would be a great convenience, in the opinion of those who have studied the question.

What was construed as a significant indicator of the diminishing buying trend in the United States at present was furnished in Chicago last week when the great mail order house of Sears, Roebuck & Co. announced that sales from May 22 to June 18 amounted to $31,475,143, which was 7.4 per cent. under sales for the previous corresponding period. Sears, Roebuck operates upon a "period" basis, there being 13 periods of an even four weeks each in the year, rather than upon a monthly basis. This is considered to give a more scientific ground for calculation and bookkeeping.

It is almost improbable that an arm thus produced should be able to stand the tests required, but the attempt is most significant, and reflects great credit on the young man.—Hong Kong Daily Press, June 23, 1905.

SECOND TEST MATCH.

"DULEEP"—THE WONDER BAT!

CHAPMAN AGAIN LUCKY IN SPIN. LARWOOD ABSENT AND HOBBS OUT EARLY.

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]

LONDON, June 27.

The weather was fine and the wicket perfect for the opening day of the second Test at Lord's, and the crowd of 20,000 gasped with disappointment when it was announced that Larwood, England's fast bowler, was not fit enough to take part in the game.

There was no change in the Australian team, the men who did duty for them in the previous game again taking the field this time.

England's team was considerably changed, and were—J. B. Hobbs, F. E. Woolley, W. R. Hammond, K. S. Duleepsinghi, E. Hendren, A. P. F. Chapman, G. O. B. Allen, M. W. Tate, R. W. Robins, J. C. White and G. Duckworth.

Just before the game started, the players were presented to His Royal Highness the Duke of York.

Chapman Wins the Toss.

Chapman was again lucky in winning the toss and elected to bat, sending in Hobbs and Woolley to open the innings.

There was much consternation when Hobbs, after he had made only one run, was dejectedly taken by Oldfield behind the stumps in attempting to play back to Fairfax. This was a disastrous start for England, the score board now reading 13-1-1.

Hammond joined Woolley, and these two played well together, the 30 being hoisted after three-quarters of an hour's play. Then the left-hander was very nicely taken at point by Wall off Fairfax, and two wickets were down for 53 runs. "Frank" brought off some brilliant off-drives and cuts, and during his stay at the wickets found the ropes seven times.

The next man in was Duleepsinghi, the brilliant Sussex batsman, who was making his first appearance in England-Australia Tests, and he at once settled down to play polished cricket. Together with Hammond, the newcomer brought the score to 100 amid much applause after play had been in progress for 93 minutes. Although Hammond was quite at home against the other bowlers, he showed a distinct dislike for Grimmett, who was tying him up with some wily slow "uns, and, in attempting to play forward to a legbreak, the Gloucester "crack" had his stumps disturbed by this bowler. The score was now 105 for three men out and the partnership had produced 50 runs in 53 minutes. Hammond brought off some very nice square cuts, four of which found the boundary.

"Duleep" Well-Set.

Hendren joined "Duleep," who was well-set by this time, and the Middlesex man also showed that he was not affected by the importance of the occasion by going for the bowling from the very start. Both men went about their business of run-getting in real earnest, and it was not till after the 200 was signalled that "Pat" was caught by McCabe off Fairfax, who claimed three out of the four wickets that had fallen up to the lunch interval. The scores at that stage were—

PRINCE TAKAMATSU.

STATE VISIT TO THEIR MAJESTIES.

ROYAL WELCOME AT DOVER.

[BRITISH WIRELESS SERVICE.]

LONDON, June 26.

Prince Takamatsu, second brother of the Emperor of Japan, accompanied by Princess Takamatsu, arrived in London this afternoon on a State visit to the King and Queen.

The Prince has brought with him the Order of the Rising Sun of Japan to present to the King. Last year, the Duke of Gloucester, the King's third son visited Japan and invested the Emperor with the Order of the Garter.

His Royal Highness had a great reception from the Japanese Royal Family and the Japanese people, and every effort is now being made to accord Prince and Princess Takamatsu a similarly cordial welcome to this country.

As the royal visitors reached Dover Harbour in the steamship Maid of Kent, a salute was fired by guns of the coast batteries, and aeroplanes circled overhead.

The Duke of Gloucester boarded the vessel and welcomed the Prince and Princess on behalf of the King and Queen.

A naval guard of honor was mounted on the pier and was inspected by the Prince, while an address was presented by the Mayor.

At Victoria Station, London, the Prince and Princess were met by the Duke of York, Princess Mary, Prince Arthur of Connaught, the Prime Minister, the Foreign Secretary and the Home Secretary.

A large crowd gathered outside the station and cheered them as they drove in a State carriage. (Continued at foot of next column.)

Banquet at Buckingham Palace.

LONDON, June 26.

A State banquet to the Prince and Princess was held to-night at Buckingham Palace.

It was a brilliant function, and was the first State dinner given by the King since his illness in 1923.

Speeches delivered by His Majesty and Princess Takamatsu dwelt on Anglo-Japanese unflinching friendship and goodwill.

Previously, His Majesty handed the Prince a Field Marshal's baton, for the Emperor of Japan, and conferred on Prince Takamatsu the Grand Cross of the Victorian Order.

TIENTSIN CUSTOMS CONFUSION.

NORTHERNERS POSSESS DOCUMENTS.

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]

PEKING, June 27.

Chu Ah Hsiang declared to-day that it had been discovered that Mr. Maze, Inspector-General of Customs, and Mr. Francis Hayley Bell, late Commissioner at Tientsin, had frequently been exchanging views on political and military matters, Customs code, and discussing supplies of munitions, etc. Hence Mr. Bell was anxious to remove the documents from the Customs office when the Shansi representatives took over the Customs, but these documents are in the hands of the Northerners.

Yen Hsi Shan had protested to the Powers regarding the collection of the duties at Shanghai, and Chu Ah Hsiang understood that the Powers had already protested to Nanking.

CUMBERSOME PROCEDURE.

DUTY PAYMENTS AT BOTH ENDS.

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]

TIENTSIN, June 27.

The Customs new régime published the following notice this morning:—

"Until further notice, the following procedure will be enforced at Tientsin regarding the duties payable here, but which are being unlawfully collected at the port of shipment.

"The examination of cargo will follow the usual practice, but when duties leviable have been assessed a deposit for that amount will be collected and a deposit receipt issued, after which it is incumbent upon the merchant to take steps to recover at the port of shipment the duty which has been illegally levied; but failing such recovery and upon satisfactory proof of payment being produced, this office will return the said deposit against the receipt."

In spite of this ruling, it is considered that the merchants will be placed in a position of virtually having to pay at both ends, as even granted that the present régime prevails, recovery of the deposit will entail considerable delay and annoyance.

DEPARTURE OF MR. HAYLEY BELL.

(Wah Tsz Tai Pao.)

TIENTSIN, June 27.

Mr. Francis Hayley Bell, the former Commissioner of Customs, left for Shanghai with some of his old staff members yesterday.

Mr. Lenox Simpson has decided to pay a month's extra pay to those old staff members who have continued their work.

Conditions Normal.

Conditions have become normal. The only question to be dealt with at present is the dual collection of Customs duties.

Payment of Duties at Shanghai. The Chinese General Chamber of Commerce has wired the Nanking Central Government and Mr. F. W. Maze, the Inspector-General of Customs at Shanghai, requesting the cancellation of the order for collecting duties at Shanghai on goods destined for Tientsin.

Customs at Kiaochow. Mr. Simpson has wired Yen Hsi Shan that he has dispatched two Britons, and an American to take over the Customs house at Kiaochow, in Shantung, which place is expected to fall into the hands of the Shansi troops at an early date.

MAYOR OF TSINGTAO.

(Wah Tsz Tai Pao.)

PEKING, June 27.

Yen Hsi Shan has instructed Chu Ah Hsiang to prepare to take over Tsingtao.

It is understood that Yen Hsi Shan will appoint Hu Yu Yu, a Mukden official, as Mayor of Tsingtao.

A THREAT TO HSUCHOW.

NANKING IN PRECARIOUS CONDITION.

CHIANG STRENGTHENS HIS DEFENCES.

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]

Following the fall of Tsinan.

Hsuehchow, the headquarters of the Nationalist troops, is now in a very precarious position, and the occupation of Tsinan by the Shansi rebels will undoubtedly serve to hasten the end of the present warfare.

The Shansi troops in Shantung are now advancing in two directions. Two divisions under Wang Ching Kuo and Li Sang Ta are moving westward along the Kiao-chow-Tsinan Railway to deal with the loyal troops under Han Fu Chu, while two other divisions under Li Fu Ying and Feng Peng Chu are striking down along the Tientsin-Pukow Railway with Hsuehchow as their objective. It is claimed by the authorities in Peking that the Shansi troops have captured Tsinan to the south of Tsinan, and are now heading towards Yenchow. It is also stated that the Honanese troops under Shih Yu Sai have captured Taining in Western Shantung.

Chiang in Hsuehchow.

The fall of Tsinan has engaged the serious attention of Marshal Chiang Kai Shek, who has returned to Hsuehchow from the front. He is now conferring with General Chen Tiao Yuan and others regarding the threat of the Shansi troops on Hsuehchow. Heavy defensive works are being created at Yenchow and reinforcements are being sent to Shantung to check the advance of the Shansi troops. Marshal Chiang is said to have decided to recall Han Fu Chu's troops at Chou-tsun to Hsuehchow. Fresh troops will be rushed to Shantung from Peking to deal with the situation.

Severe fighting is still raging between Kihsein and Chenlou on the Lung-hai front. The left wing of the Nanking troops are pressing upon Chenlou, which city is being bombarded by the Nanking artillery. A rebel aeroplane has been brought down by the Nanking troops near Chenlou.

Two Thousand Wounded.

Over 2,000 wounded Kuomintang troops were recently rushed to Hsuehchow from the Lung-hai front. The military hospitals were overcrowded, and many of them were taken to other cities for accommodation.

Feng Yu Hsiang has recently enlisted 50,000 new men in Kansu and Shensi to reinforce his troops.

The situation in Honan along the Peking-Hankow Railway line remains unchanged.

According to a wire from Chungking in Szechuan, Wu Pei Fu is making another attempt to mobilize his troops to attack Hupeh. He has named his handful of troops the Hsingkuochun, and has dispatched agents to Hankow to enlist the support of his former subordinates now serving in the Nationalist forces. It will be remembered that some two weeks ago, Wu mobilized his troops in an attempt to attack Ichang in Hupeh, but they were repulsed by the loyal troops at the Szechuan border and fell back on Suifu.

CHIANG'S DEFEAT ON LUNG-HAI FRONT.

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]

PEKING, June 27.

Chu Ah Hsiang, in the course of his weekly interview with the Press, declared that Chiang Kai Shek had been defeated in his defensive on the Lung-hai front, as the Northern leaders knew his plans, and had concentrated 70,000 men in ambush at villages and had attacked him in the flank and rear.

The Nanking forces have now retreated to their original defensive positions.

Yen Frustrates Han's Plans.

As regards Shantung, Han Fu Chu had hoped to establish a Provincial Government at Tsingtao, but he had found that Yen Hsi Shan had long ago made an arrangement with Chang Hsueh Liang that Tsingtao was to be a naval base for the North-Eastern Squadron.

Han Relied on Liu.

Han Fu Chu had also hoped that Liu Chien Nien would assist him, but Liu Chien Nien had accepted an appointment as Commander of the Nineteenth Army Corps under Yen Hsi Shan. Hence after withdrawing from Chou-tsun Han Fu Chu found that he could not proceed to Tsingtao, so he is now attempting to march to Hsuehchow and link up with the Nanking forces.

The Shansi forces are advancing to the South along the Tientsin-Pukow Railway. Chu Ah Hsiang said he believed that they had taken Tsinan, though there was not yet any official information regarding this.

Police Fire On Crowd.

MADRAS, June 26.

One of the demonstrators was killed by the firing and 13 wounded.

GERMAN COLONIAL PARTICIPATION.

OBJECTION TO THE UNITING OF TERRITORIES.

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]

BERLIN, June 26.

In the Reichstag to-day, Dr. Curtius, the Foreign Minister, referred to Germany's colonial policy, and said: "Germany can base her claim to colonial participation on the success of her former colonial policy. If England unites the mandated territory from German East Africa with the adjoining British territories, such action will be incompatible with the independence of mandated territory."

British Proposals Contested.

"The proposals of the British Government should be examined by the League of Nations before they are carried out. We shall do everything to prevent the carrying out of these proposals."

CHARGES OF BREACH OF FAITH.

Berlin, June 26.—The White Paper published by the British Colonial Office, outlining a number of proposals for the unification of the East African territories of Tanganyika, Uganda and Kenya has aroused the sharpest criticism in the German Press of all parties.

The Conservative Boersensetting thus writes:—"It is obvious that the period of preparation has come to an end and that the British Government is now openly proceeding to violate the Versailles Treaty in order to build up on the basis of Germany's former East African colonies a great new Dominion." The paper urges on the German Government the duty to take energetic action against the final annexation by Great Britain of a former German colony.

The Democratic Postische Zeitung as well as the Monarchist Kreuzzeitung recall that, replying to the late Foreign Minister, Herr Stresemann, the Foreign Secretary, Mr. Henderson pledged the British Government to submit the matter to the permanent mandates commission of the League of Nations. The publication of the White Paper is, the two Berlin papers point out, a breach of the British Foreign Secretary's undertaking which was given after the publication of the Hilton Young report and in consequence of the indignation aroused by it in the German Press.

Tagliche Rundschau which, after a period of inactivity, recently again started publication, writes: "The British Government's proposals as outlined in the White Paper issued by the Colonial Office, constitute a deliberate breach of international treaties, and it is Germany's clear duty to protest immediately to the League of Nations under whose supervision the mandated territories are being administered."

BRITISH EMPIRE TRADE.

ALTERNATIVE TO TRADITIONAL POLICY.

[BRITISH WIRELESS SERVICE.]

RUSSIA, June 23.

The General Council of the Trades Union Congress to-day issued the long-awaited report of its Economic Committee, which is composed of the most influential leaders of the Labour movement, including Messrs. John Beard, Ernest Bevin, Ben Tillett, Will Thorne and Arthur Punch.

The report says that various economic blocs have been considered, such as the United States of Europe as proposed by M. Briand, an Anglo-American alliance and the Economic group of the British Commonwealth.

Regarding the European group, it is pointed out that countries in it would be competing against each other, since they manufacture practically the same things and the same kinds of goods.

An alternative to this method of grouping was for this country to maintain its position of isolation, making the best bargain possible with any one and everyone.

"That is our traditional policy," the Committee declares, but it is possible to maintain it any longer? It has to be remembered that European groups are actually coming into existence, and this being so, has the policy of isolation any chance of succeeding in the future?"

World Economic Unity Impracticable.

As to world economic unity, the Committee says they would desire that, but unfortunately it could not be regarded as at present practicable.

Sentiment Still Counts in Economic Sphere.

Discussing the pros and cons of the economic unity of the British Empire, the Committee says: "Factors in favour are of a bloc already existing in a tentative kind of way; that there are undoubtedly ideas of sentiment that still count in the economic sphere; that supplies of raw materials and of manufactured goods could be balanced as the group is rich in raw materials and is, in fact, almost self-contained; that there is to a certain extent a common language; and that there is abundant opportunity for movements of population within the group."

Tariff Bond Within the Empire.

"It has further to be remembered that there is already to some extent a tariff bond within the Commonwealth in the form of preferences and other commercial discriminations applying to both Dominions and Colonies."

Consolidation of British Commonwealth.

The Committee declare that if the policy of creating economic blocs continues to be pursued by other nations, then the most practicable group from this country's viewpoint would appear to be a consolidation of the British Commonwealth. Such a policy would in no way affect detrimentally British support of and participation in the work of the League of Nations, but rather the contrary. Britain would be in a better position to strengthen the scope and authority of the League.

"Naturally, we should not be prevented by this policy from concluding European or other international agreements regarding the marketing of coal, steel, or other commodities. The difference would be that we should bargain as a Commonwealth group instead of as Great Britain. In many cases this would be a decided advantage."

Antagonism to European Aims or U.S. Policy to be Avoided.

The Committee urge that the Imperial Conference should press for full development of the economic relations between the countries of the British Commonwealth, but it is vitally necessary to avoid antagonism either to European aims or to American policy. It is suggested that regular Imperial Economic Conferences should evolve an economic policy for the British Commonwealth independently of party politics. There should also be an inter-Commonwealth economic secretariat to investigate the problems.

T.U.C. Approves Report.

The General Committee of the Trades Union Congress has approved the report, which has been prepared with a view to the forthcoming Imperial Conference.

The report may be regarded as an important development in the controversy which has been aroused by the campaign of Lord Beaverbrook and Lord Rothermere for Empire economic unity.

Decisions At Variance With Chancellor's Policy.

The declaration that the "policy of isolation is no longer possible" is used as a headline in the Evening News, Lord Rothermere's newspaper, which declares: "The Committee's decisions are at complete variance with the Free Trade policy of Mr. Snowden, Chancellor of the Exchequer."

BOLIVIA'S BLOODY REVOLUTION.

GOVERNMENT OVERTHROWN BY ARMY.

PRESIDENT RUNS AWAY.

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]

BUENOS AIRES, June 26.

It is reported that the revolution in Bolivia was accompanied by terrible scenes.

Police Massacre Civilians.

The army, which has overthrown the Government, according to a report from La Paz, Bolivia, was incensed at the "massacre of civilians by the police."

The army then attacked and routed the police, numerous dead and wounded being left lying.

The troops refused to allow the Ministers to enter the Government buildings.

The President took refuge in the American Legation, but a message from La Paz indicates that he has now left the country.

REICHSTAG'S FATE.

BUDGET STILL IN DISPUTE.

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]

BERLIN, June 26.

Herr Dietrich, the Minister of Economics, becomes Minister of Finance.

The Cabinet will discuss the Budget to-morrow, and if it is not adopted by the Reichstag the Chancellor will dissolve the Reichstag and enact the Budget in accordance with the ad hoc article of the Constitution, after which there will be a general election in the autumn.

"SOUTHERN CROSS" FLIGHT ENDED.

VIGOROUS WELCOME AT NEW YORK.

[REUTER'S AMERICAN SERVICE.]

NEW YORK, June 26.

The "Southern Cross," which landed at 7.30 p.m. to-day, and was escorted by a dozen other aeroplanes, treated the thousands of spectators who had assembled to greet Major Kingsford-Smith and his companions to a spectacular exhibition of vertical flying.

The plane then landed at Roosevelt Field.

When the machine taxied round the ground there was great activity among a battalion of photographers and sound-reel men.

"This Is Terrible!"

The window of the cabin was thrown up and the flyers were greeted by the crowd.

The Dutchman, Mr. Van Dyk, grimy with dust and perspiration, exclaimed: "This is terrible!"

The quartette were seized by representatives of two National Broadcasting systems until the police took command of them.

The airmen then climbed back into the plane for the Customs immigration examination.

Each airmen spoke a few words into a radio microphone before being whisked off to an hotel for the night.

EXHIBITION TENNIS.

FINCHER BROTHERS DO WELL

MEIJI STARS DISAPPOINT THEIR SUPPORTERS.

The Meiji tennis stars were seen in action in the Kowloon Cricket Club courts yesterday when they played three exhibition matches with some of the Colony's exponents.

There was a poor crowd to watch the games, but no doubt the rain that fell at about 4 p.m. on this side of the Harbour had a lot to do with it.

A. L. Sullivan and L. Seo took part in the opening game, a single tie over three sets and after the local man had lost the first set, he asserted himself and took the next two and the match. This was a rather tame affair, both players being content to stay at the baseline most of the time and seldom, if ever, was any crisp volleying in evidence.

The local man's style is rather cramped and he was too fond of exploiting the "American Reverse" service, which cost him many a valuable point. Seo was also poor as regards his service but otherwise he seems quite a clever player. The final scores in favour of Sullivan were: 3-8, 8-4 and 9-2.

Finchers Show Up Well.

The next game was a doubles match between the Fincher brothers and Okamoto and Kumachi. Here the Finchers gave a dashing display, and running the visitors off their feet claimed the first set at 6-2. "Teddy" played his usual cool game, bringing off many fine shots while "E.F." was conspicuous for some very good overhead work. Okamoto made several costly mistakes while his partner was sound. Mention must be made of the splendid way in which they recovered themselves after they were 1-5 down in the second, which also proved to be the final set. They drew level by means of some fine tennis, but that proved their final effort, for the brothers took the next two games and the set at 7-5.

Darkness Intervenes.

The third match which was perhaps the best was brought to a conclusion after the scores had stood at one set all on account of falling light. Here the Fujikura brothers had Ng Sze Kwong and Ho Ka Lau as opponents, and the young Japanese pair who are the Junior Doubles champions of Japan started in great fashion and took the first set against two older and more experienced players at 8-4.

The next set was just as closely contested and went to twelve games before the Chinese couple claimed it. T. Fujikura gave a delightful exhibition of driving and placing, while his younger brother often got the local players guessing with well-placed lobs. Ng Sze Kwong gave flashes of his old form, while Ho, as usual, played a hard game.

If it understood the final set will be played this afternoon, provided there is sufficient time to do so. Tennis fans are reminded that the games to-day start at 3.30 p.m. sharp, and they will be well advised to get to the ground early in order to be sure of a seat, as the programme is an excellent one and the games promise to be of a very high standard.

WIMBLEDON TENNIS TOURNAMENT.

MEN'S DOUBLES RESULTS.

COLLAPSE OF MISS HARVEY.

(THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.)

LONDON, June 28. After three days of strenuous singles matches, the men concentrated on the doubles.

An interesting factor was the first appearance of W. T. Tilden, who, in partnership with the stolid base-line player Timmer, the Dutch champion, beat the British pair, Detering and Reddell, 6-4, 8-6, 6-2.

Mrs. Ryan, the Californian champion, severely passed into the fourth round by defeating Mdlle. Sigart, the Belgian champion, 6-3, 6-4.

Berkley Bell and Gregory Man- gin defeated Count Salm and Burr 7-5, 6-4, 8-4.

Doeg and Lott beat Cazalet and Masterman 8-6, 13-11, 7-5.

Allison and Van Ryn, the American holders of the Wimbledon title, defeated Metcalf and Vinnall 6-2, 6-3, 6-0.

WATER POLO.

KOWLOON DEFEAT R.A.

SOMERSET'S JUNIORS WIN.

A good clean game was seen at the V.R.C. last evening when Kowloon met and defeated the Royal Artillery.

There was not much to choose between the sides in the first half, the soldiers keeping Simpson well marked.

After the interval, however, Simpson put his side ahead with a fine shot at close range, resulting from a corner throw. A few minutes later Goldman added a second goal.

The teams were as follows:—Kowloon:—Angus, Wittchell, Franks, Railton, Simpson, Goldman.

R.A.:—Ribbands, Gray, Cavanagh, Lewis, Forrester, Gill and Oliver.

The Junior Game.

The Somersets team beat the Royal Artillery here by 3 goals. Parkes scored a clever goal shortly after the start, and his side led by a solitary goal until the interval.

In the second half the Somersets had most of the game and added two more goals through Parkes and Scouting.

LOCAL BASEBALL.

CHINESE TEAM FOR TO-MORROW.

The following will be the Chinese team for their match with the "Texaco" stalwarts which will take place on the South China Field, Caroline Hill, at 4 p.m. to-morrow:

M. Goo	P.
M. Chang	P.
F. Wong	1b.
F. F. Choy	2b.
C. C. Leung	ss.
G. Ng	3b.
E. Chang	1.f.
C. Young	c.f.
Pong	r.f.

It will be noticed that Ed. Chang will not pitch, unless a change is made in the line-up on the field. His place will be taken by Goo, who is said to have come on a lot since last season. Another likely starter for the Chinese will be Doo, who is here on a visit from the North where he has a good reputation as an A.1. first baseman.

Overseas Spectators.

Bobby Jones, the famous golfer, and the Australian cricketers were among the spectators watching this match on the Centre Court.

COUNTY CRICKET.

TWO MATCHES PLAYED TO A FINISH.

VICTORIES FOR YORKS AND GLOUCESTER.

(THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.)

LONDON, June 28.

Somerset collapsed badly in their cricket fixture with Yorkshire, which was decided to-day in favour of the latter by 328 runs, or what was virtually an innings victory, as the combined total of the two innings by the losers fell short of the first innings total of the winners. Yorkshire's success was gained by three of their batsmen being in good form, while the bowlers shone in their department.

In another match which was completed, Gloucester beat Middlesex by eight wickets. Parker, for the winners, took 16 wickets for 109 runs.

With Holmes (102) Mitchell (130, not out) and Leyland (69, not out) in form with the bat, Yorkshire declared at 318 for the loss of one wicket in their second innings. Somerset only replied with 133 runs, Bowes taking five wickets at the cost of 8 runs apiece and Dennis four wickets for 18 runs.

This match was played at Cheltenham, and resulted in a win for Gloucester by eight wickets.

Middlesex batted first and were all out for 134 runs, Parker taking eight wickets for 49 runs. Gloucester replied with 233 runs, and Haig, who bowled well for Middlesex, took six wickets for 62 runs.

In their second innings Middlesex again found Parker (8 for 60) troublesome, and were dismissed for 142 runs. Gloucester then knocked off the required runs with two men out.

Middlesex, 1st innings 134

Parker, 8 for 49.

Gloucester, 1st innings 233

Haig, 6 for 62.

STRIBLING DEFEATS VON PORAT.

WINNER TO FIGHT SCOTT IN LONDON.

(UNITED PRESS.)

Chicago, June 28.—Young Stribling of Georgia knocked out the Norwegian heavyweight, Otto Von Porat, in the first round of their fight here to-day.

Stribling began the first round with a fast boxing lesson for his slower opponent, who clinched and took severe punishment about the body. Forcing down Von Porat's guard, Stribling knocked him out with a left hook to the jaw.

Stribling is to fight Phil Scott in London a month from to-day.

A gift of $100,000 by a Birmingham business man, whose name has not yet been disclosed, to augment the fund which is being raised to provide the city with a new hospital centre is promised if the first list of subscriptions totals 2350,000.

The cost of the scheme in the next five years will be $1,250,000. The Lord Mayor of Birmingham (Alderman M. L. Lancaster) stated that the gentleman, who had made the offer, had very closely examined the scheme, and was greatly impressed with its necessity. The Lord Mayor added that the response to the appeal had so far been very satisfactory, but in view of the generous offer he was doubly anxious that those intending to subscribe should do so without delay.

AMERICAN MINISTER TO CANADA.

LIVELY SCENE IN SENATE.

(UNITED PRESS.)

Washington, June 30.—In an open executive session to-day, the Senate considered and subsequently confirmed the appointment of Mr. Hanford MacNider, former assistant Secretary of War, as U.S. Minister to Canada.

The consideration of Mr. MacNider was not unattended by fireworks, the most spectacular of which were set off by Senator Smith W. Brookhart, his old political enemy.

"Mr. MacNider is offensive to me in every way," declared the Iowa Senator in the course of a heated speech reviewing Mr. MacNider's career. Following this, the confirmation was voted.

Mr. MacNider was born in Iowa in 1889 and became a leading Middle West banker, having been president of the First National Co., investment bankers, since 1920. He served on the Mexican border and in the World War, rising to the rank of lieutenant-colonel. As a member of the American League he was first a department commander for Iowa and subsequently the national commander.

He is a commander of the Legion of Honour and has the Distinguished Service Cross with cluster, the Croix de Guerre with five citations, and the Croce al Merito di Guerra.

American Express Travelers' Cheques

Definition of TRAVELLERS' CHEQUES—
"The system of Travellers' Cheques was originated in 1891 by the American Express Company with the object of creating a form of travel currency which would give the holder the security of a letter of credit and at the same time the convenience of local currency. The Company registered the cheques under the trade name of 'AMERICAN EXPRESS TRAVELLERS' CHEQUES' the word 'Travellers' being spelled with one 'l'. The advantage of the Cheques was so apparent that other banking institutions adopted the system."

Quoted from Pittman's Dictionary of Banking by Wm. Thomson.

Issued in $20, $50, $100, and $500, and 2-5 and 1-10 denominations—bound in a small, handy wallet and cost only 1/2 of 1 per cent.
